The collapse of the long steel bridge that was being constructed over the St. Lawrence river, near Quebec, which catastrophe occurred Thursday evening, was a more appalling calamity than was at first supposed; at least 79 of the workmen engaged on the bridge are missing and many bodies can be seen under the water wedged in the debris of the wrecked steel and timber of the bridge; fifteen bodies are at the morgue and only one was recovered yesterday.——The Virginia Corporation Commission yesterday ordered publication of the two-cent rate law, placing it in effect October 1st, except as to the Atlantic Coast Line, Southern and other roads which enjoined the Commission from enforcing the law. ——Richard Mansfield, the eminent actor, remembered for his creations of "Beau Brummel" and "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at his Summer home near New London, Conn.; his former manager, E. E. Price, of Philadelphia, pays a fine tribute to his genius and tells of his peculiarities. —— At Durham, N. C., yesterday Cashier Cheek, of the Citizens' Bank, while driving an automobile at high speed, killed little Ethel Horner in the street.——William McIntosh, a negro murderer to be hanged at Norfolk, was a member of the Tenth Cavalry, which distinguished itself at San Juan Hill during the war with Spain.——It is announced from London that Emperor William, of Germany, will arrange a marriage beteen his only daughter, Princess Victoria, 15 years of age, and his cousin, Prince Leopold, of Battenburg, England.——A head on collision between an electric train and an express car one mile from Charleston, Ill., yesterday resulted in the death of 15 people, and the injury of fifty.——Miss Susawane Bonet committed suicide at Norfolk yesterday by hanging herself in the bathroom. ——The social row between the Jamestown Exposition officials has been settled by the resignation of Commissioner General Kohlsaat and the appointment of Barton Grundy, of Richmond, as master of ceremonies.——All but three of the New York power boats which made a cruise to the Jamestown Exposition, sailed on the return trip yesterday. ——New York markets: Money on call strong 3 1-4 to 4 1-2 per cent., ruling closing at 3 to 3 1-2; cotton quiet 13.55; flour firm but quiet firm, No. 2 red 98 1-4 elevator; corn firm, No. 2 68 1-2 elevator; oats weak, mixed 58 to 60; turpentine and rosin quiet.

Has Taft really said any thing to meet your expectations?

President Roosevelt recently spoke of "certain malefactors of great wealth," and actually a lot of people consider his remarks as personal.

A writer in a magazine says: "A man's wife should always be first." She always is the first to catch up with his tricks.

"Figures will not lie," a contemporary recalls, yet we've seen padded figures that made false impressions just the same.

No wonder the Boers were not allowed to have the Transvaal all to themselves. Within the past six months the mines of that country have produced $55,000,000 in gold.

The Atlantic City tax assessor levies $100 additional on men who are bachelors. No well posted bachelor, however, is going to be forced into marrying under the belief that he can save that hundred by getting a wife.

In Richmond a few nights ago a colored widow ate fish for supper and later indulged in a plate of ice cream and some peanuts. If she had lived she probably would have wound up with watermelon, but she died before reaching the best thing on the list.

World's Work wants a Southern man for President, and says "he must speak the language of Tilden and Cleveland." Even if the nominee is not a Southern man, he should be one who could carry on a conversation like a man who knows a Democrat when he sees him.

We are sorry to see that the Jamestown Exposition officials are wrangling as to who shall have precedence at social functions. Let all of 'em who know how to eat without a knife put on their jim-swinger coats and show visitors a good time in a Democratic way.

Says the Greensboro Tar Heel (Rep.): "We are opposed to a revision of the tariff by the present Congress. If for no other reason, that the Congress was elected on a stand-pat platform." Roosevelt labors under the same embarrassment. An acknowledgment that the tariff needs revision now would be a confession that standpattery is wrong.

PLANT'S FIFTH DAY.

Comptroller of Southern Still on the Rack in Railway Rate Hearing.

ADJOURNED TILL THURSDAY

Affairs of Corporation Commission Suffering, Says Judge Shepherd. Mr. Thom Delivers a Clever Thrust at Speaker Justice.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Aug. 30.—The hearing in the North Carolina rate case which has been in progress here for a week was today adjourned until next Thursday, at which time it will be continued in this city. The adjournment came at the conclusion of a day's severe cross-examination by counsel for the State of North Carolina of Comptroller Plant of the Southern Railway Company. Mr. Plant had been on the witness stand for five days.

When the inquiry is resumed next week several officials of the Southern Railway will be placed on the witness stand. Among them will be S. H. Hardwick, Traffic Passenger Manager of that system.

At today's session Judge Shepherd, counsel of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, urged an adjournment until next Wednesday because the work of the Commission was suffering for want of attention. Mr. Thom, counsel for the Southern Railway, urged that Mr. Plant's testimony be concluded before adjournment, which was finally agreed to. Judge Montgomery urged expedition in the inquiry.

Much of Mr. Plant's testimony on previous days was threshed over today. Mr. Justice's cross-examination of Mr. Plant caused Judge Montgomery to admonish him that his manner of addressing the witness was too severe. Mr. Justice replied that he meant no discourtesy to the witness, but that it was simply his manner of questioning.

Counsel Thom restored good feeling by suggesting to Mr. Justice that the latter was speaking with so much force in order that he might be heard in North Carolina.

CONVICT WAS SHOT.

Made Dash for Liberty From Camp Near Lumberton.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, Aug. 30.—Early this morning while the State convicts who are working on the Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad, eight or ten miles from here, were eating breakfast a negro convict by the name of West made a dash for liberty. Failing to halt when ordered to do so the guard fired on him inflicting painful though not serious wounds, the shot taking effect in his feet and legs. Dr. Norment gave the necessary medical attention.

CUT TRAIN IN TWO.

Freight Trains Come Together Where Roads Cross at Pembroke.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer has the following:

"An A. C. L. freight train, standing on a track at Pembroke, where the two roads cross, was ran into by a Seabord Air Line train about 10 o'clock last night and cut in two. Several box cars were wrecked. No one was hurt, the engine itself being only slightly damaged. The track was blocked for several hours, delaying the north bound A. C. L. passenger train which did not reach here until one o'clock this morning."

Funeral of Mrs. G. F. Quinn.

In the presence of a large assemblage of sorrowing friends and relatives, impressive funeral services were conducted yesterday morning from the family residence, No. 916 North Fourth street, over the remains of the late Mrs. G. F. Quinn, who passed away at her home in this city Thursday evening. The services were by Rev. Fred D. Hale, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, and immediately thereafter the remains were taken on the Coast Line train to Long Creek, N. C., for interment. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. O. Powers, F. B. LeGwin, P. C. Moore, J. Moore, W. G. Craig, and G. A. Peterson.

Negro Excursion on Steamer.

The steamer City of Fayetteville, Capt. Leroy Smith, was in port yesterday, clearing at 8 o'clock last night for the return to Fayetteville. The steamer brought something over 200 colored excursionists from Fayetteville and intermediate points.

IN THE BASEBALL REALM

Game Par Excellence at Hilton Yesterday Afternoon—Three in City League and Two in Southside This Afternoon.

One of the fastest and snappiest games of baseball witnessed this season at Hilton Park was that between a picked team from the City League and the Southsiders yesterday afternoon. The score was one to nothing in favor of the City League team, the lone run having been made in the second inning after which time there was nothing doing in the home plate line. The game was featured by fast team work on both sides and the pitching of the staff of each aggregation. It was an all-star performance on the diamond and the pity is that there was not a larger crowd present to witness the exhibition.

The Score:—

City League	.....01000000x—	1	3	2
South. League	...000000000—	0	4	2

Batteries: B. Houston and Cashwell; Mintz and Carr. Struck out by Houston, 8; by Mintz, 12.

This afternoon there will be three games in the City League and two in the Southside on their respective grounds. The first game in the City League will be between the Monarchs and Y. M. C. A. and the batteries will be Irving and King; Green and Moore. Immediately following the first game there will be two games between the Rattlers and Giants. The batteries will be Quinney and Houston; Gore and Seifert. All three games will be of only seven innings each so that the series may be completed in good time. These triple-headers are necessary because of the rain that interfered a couple of afternoons earlier in the season.

The games in the Southside League will be the Gray Eagles and Union Leaders at 3 o'clock and the Wilmington and Cotton Mills teams at 5 o'clock. These will be on the grounds on Castle street and the public is cordially invited.

For all lovers of the sport there will be something doing at Hilton Park on Monday, Labor Day. There will be two games that afternoon at 3 and 5 o'clock, respectively between the Y. M. C. A. and Monarchs. It is expected that the result of these games will considerably change the standing in the percentage column and may cut a big figure in the pennant winning for the season. All the teams are now on the home stretch and some of the real article may be expected in these closing contests.

PROF. J. A. HOLT DEAD.

Well Known and Highly Respected Colored Educator of Wilmington.

Prof. J. A. Holt, principal of Williston Graded School, of this city, and a highly respected colored man—one of the most substantial of his race—died Thursday night at 10 o'clock at his home on Middle Sound, this county. Prof. Holt suffered a paralytic stroke about ten days ago and while he was able to be in the city attending to business Saturday, upon his return home he was quite unwell and a recurrence of the attack carried him away quite unexpectedly. He was a well known colored man in the State and a prominent educator, having been educated at the famous Hampton Institute in Virginia. He had been a resident of this city for a number of years and was formerly principal of Peabody Normal School for the colored race in Wilmington. Prof. Holt is survived by his wife and three children, two sons and a daughter, one of the sons, James Holt, being a mail carrier in the service of the government at Wilmington. Prof. Holt was a prominent member of the colored Masonic Order and of the G. U. O. O. F., with the honors of which the funeral will be conducted in this city today. His passing away will be keenly regretted by a host of friends of both races in Wilmington.

May be Wanted Here.

Road Superintendent Herbert Hocutt has received word from Rocky Mount that two negroes have been arrested there and sentenced to the roads for 30 days for beating their way on a freight train into that town and that their description tallies exactly with that of Herbert Moyes and Leroy Jackson, the negroes who escaped from the convict squad here about two weeks ago. Superintendent Hocutt has written for further particulars and if the description as furnished by the Rocky Mount authorities will warrant it, he will go to Nash county to identify the prisoners so that they may be brought back here as soon as their terms have been completed there.

An Approaching Marriage.

Many friends will be interested in the announcement of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Helen Alberta Skinner, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. W. Skinner, of this city, and Mr. James Henry Sallings, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Sallings, of Wilmington, and a young man held in high esteem by many friends and acquaintances. The wedding will take place tomorrow.

THE RACING MATINEE

No Lack of Public Interest in an Ancient and Honorable Outdoor Sport.

RACING EVENTS YESTERDAY

Track at Old Fair Grounds Lined With Enthusiastic Admirers of Fine Horses—"Daisy," "Traveler," and "Job," Winners.

If a manifestation of public interest is all that is necessary to an organization of the sport in Wilmington, a lack of encouragement upon the part of the people of the city can no longer be pleaded as an excuse after the racing matinee at the Old Fair Grounds track, near the County Home, yesterday afternoon. The crowds were there by a large majority, the estimates of the number in attendance ranging all the way from twelve to fifteen hundred. This, too, in spite of the inaccessibility of the grounds except by private conveyance and the further fact that the horses were known to comparatively few and, therefore, with a large majority of the patrons of the sport there were no favorites.

The crowds began to arrive early, and in the absence of seats, they disposed themselves around the track in buggies, carriages, surries, hacks, and automobiles, giving quite a picturesque appearance to the meet. Here and there refreshment stands had been improvised, the peanut and pop corn man threaded his way through the fringe of the crowd and up front a large Tennessee wagon had been drawn up upon which the judges, timekeepers and other dignitaries had places. The bookmakers were absent, but otherwise it was a full-fledged racing mat and the old-timers revelled in the sport. A few were wise as to the respective horses programmed and now and then a side bet was registered, but as a whole the owners and a majority of the spectators had braved the distance for the real sport there was in it and the afternoon was a real pleasure to them.

The meet yesterday afternoon and the popular interest manifested by the people of Wilmington at large ensures the early organization of a driving association and the establishment of a driving park at some convenient point to the car or railroad line. A wagonette and automobile transfer was maintained during the afternoon from Fourth and Nixon streets to the grounds, but this was unsatisfactory in the main and the question of accessibility will be one of the first considerations of the promoters of the sport. That it will "draw" well in Wilmington is beyond question and those at the head of the movement for a driving association, either in connection with the fair grounds movement or independently, feel very much encouraged at the outlook.

But to the races. There were three events scheduled and each was pulled off successfully and satisfactorily. In the 2:40 trotting class there were three entries, the event having been won by "Traveller," the bay gelding time, 2:38. "Patti," the bay mare owned and driven by Emerson, was second, with 'P't,eshrdluetaoishrdluet second, with "Pet," the brown mare belonging to Mr. J. G. Littig, Jr., and driven by Kidd, third. The latter horse was a trifle unsteady, though she won one of the heats in 2:41.

In the three-minute class "Job," the bay gelding driven incog by Harris, was the winner; time, 2:50. Second in the race was "The Baby," black gelding driven by Kidd, while third was "Farewell," a bay gelding, also driven incog by Jones. The time in the several heats was not officially taken.

The running race was by far the most exciting. The first heat was won by "Lady Laundry," the sorrel mare owned by Mr. James J. Darby and ridden by "Striped Leg Johnnie," but "Daisy," the roan mare owned by Mr. Ed Boushee and ridden by "Toby," was an easy winner of the race in 50 seconds. Mr. Joe Price had "Lady Laundry" in charge and she gave evidence of developing better things on the track with a more adroit jockey.

The officials of the race were Mr. Frank T. Mills, starter; Mr. W. D. McMillan, timekeeper; Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, John B. Stronach and D. McEachern, judges.

Another matinee will be given in about ten days, and as the interest seems to be on the increase, until arrangements can be made for a track on the street car or suburban line, it is probable that the Atlantic Coast Line officials will be induced to accede to a request to run a train out to the track on a ten or fifteen minute schedule over the new yards. This would give all an opportunity of seeing the races with a minimum of inconvenience as the track extends almost to the course itself and a large traffic could be handled from the Front street station of the road. In fact, the promoters of the sport are not certain but that permanent arrangements can be made with one or the other of the roads to run a regular schedule of excursion trains to the track each afternoon that events are scheduled there. If this can be done, there is a likelihood that the track will be permanently improved where it is and a grandstand will be erected.

TROPHIES ARE AWARDED

Peters and Murchison Cup Finals at Wilmington Gun Club Yesterday Afternoon—Boylan and Dreher Tie for High Average.

Although the racing matinee at the Old Fair Grounds and the baseball game at Hilton Park divided the interest of the sporting fraternity, there was a good attendance at the traps of the Wilmington Gun Club yesterday afternoon and some good scores were recorded. The shoot marked the finals for both the Peters Trophy and the Murchison Cup, offered early in the season. Mr. George Harriss, a late entry, won the Peters trophy with a record of 178 out of 250 targets and the handsome cup offered by J. W. Murchison & Co., went to Dr. J. H. Dreher in a score of 200 out of 250. Each contestant shot from a sliding handicap and the record is considered very satisfactory.

In the shooting of the regular events yesterday afternoon Messrs. Boylan and Dreher tied for the high average with 89 out of 100. The weather was fine and the traps in splendid condition. Dr. Dreher's record out of 150 was 133 broken while Mr. Penny was a close second with 126 out of 150. The scores in detail were as follows:

	Shot at.	Broke.
Penny	150	126
Holmes	150	109
Harriss	100	80
Boylan	125	105
Dreher	150	133
Howell	50	23
Perdew	75	55
Stranger	75	48
Taylor	125	78
Stokley	50	47
Warren	25	19
Boushee	25	22

It was expected that the tie between Messrs. Stokley and Boushee for the handsome vase offered by the Hunter Arms Company would be shot off yesterday afternoon but neither of the contestants arrived on the ground before it was too late to begin the shoot.

Messrs. Boylan, Boushee, Stokley, Dr. Dreher, probably Mr. Penny and others will leave early next week to attend the tournament of the Deep Run Hunt Club at Richmond, Va., on the 2nd and 3rd of September. The Wilmington team is a strong one and their friends "down home" are expecting to hear from them in the Virginia shoot.

ROBBED CARS OF WHISKEY.

Young White Man Arrested at Fayetteville on the Charge.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayettexille Observer has the following of interest:

"A freight car on the A. C. L. yard here was broken into last night, and a quantity of whiskey carried off. The night watchman saw two men leaving the car loaded with bottles, and alleged that he recognized one of them as a young white man named Albert Bulla, who lived nearby the yard. On this information Bulla was arrested this morning, but later released on $100 bond.

"Robbing cars of whiskey has been a matter of almost daily occurrence for a number of years past, and it is almost an exception when a shipment of whiskey arrives intact. How thieves know which car contains the stuff is more than we can tell, but they are certainly expert at it."

Attempt to Float Schooner.

The Southeport Herald of yesterday says: "The tug Blanche and revenue cutter Seminole returned from Little River, S. C., last Sunday where both have been for the past few days endeavoring to pull the wrecked schooner Cassie F. Bronson off the beach. The Bronson is property of the W. S. & L. R. Co. The schooner went ashore in the September hurricane of last year but on account of being so far up on the beach little has been done to float her notwithstanding the fact that she is only slightly damaged. The cutter and Blanche succeeded in moving the Bronson a few feet only and attempts to float her were abandoned until the high spring tides of next month."

AFFAIRS IN RALEIGH

Rockingham Development Company New Enterprise Chartered For Richmond.

GHASTLY FIND OF AN INFANT

Body Sewed Up, Giving Every Evidence of Infanticide—Farmers' Convention Continues Its Sessions—Governor on Jaunt.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—The Rockingham Development Company, receives a charter with $50,000 capital authorized for the development of suburban property at Rockingham, Richmond county. W. C. Leak is one of the principal incorporators. A certificate of dissolution was also filed today for the Penny Bros Company, of Guilford county, Geo. T. Penny being president.

In the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction a map of special interest has been prepared showing the distribution of local tax districts for the improvement of schools and rural school libraries by counties, the aggregate being 532 local tax districts and 1,670 rural libraries.

Quartermaster General F. A. Macon of the North Carolina National Guard, spent the day here on business with Governor Glenn, and in the office of the Adjutant General adjusting some matters connected with the recent encampment of the North Carolina National Guard at the Jamestown Exposition for North Carolina Week. Adjutant General T. R. Robertson has not yet returned from his vacation at New Market, Va.

A ghastly and revolting find here this morning was the body of a newborn white child out in the grove in front of the State prison. It had been wrapped closely in an old "bark sack" and securely sewed in. Decomposition was well advanced, probably a week or longer. The bundle was found by a negro employed by the Mutual Publishing Company, as he went to his work. Coroner Separks took the case in hand, but he has little hope of locating the persons guilty of infanticide of which there is abundant evidence.

Yesterday was a big day at Garner, this county, the occasion being an educational rally by the Junior Order United American Mechanics. There was an immense crowd and the principal speakers were State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner, County Superintendent Z. V. Judd and Postmaster W. G. Briggs, of Raleigh. Following the addresses there was a big picnic dinner which every one enjoyed immensely.

Many people went from Raleigh and other points in this section to the big Confederate Veteran reunion at Holly Springs today by the W. R. Rand Camp, Confederate Veterans. It was the annual reunion. Gen. Julian S. Carr was the principal speaker, and he treated the immense throng of people to one of his very best addresses, paying splendid tributes to not only many of the leaders of the "Lost Cause," but to the men in line as well. There was a big barbecue in connection with the reunion.

The North Carolina State Farmers' Convention completed its fifth annual session today, the convention having been in progress the past three days studying the most approved methods and appliances for all phases of farm work and agricultural interests generally. The morning session today was devoted to dairying, and the afternoon session to live stock. The breeding and care of the dairy herd, some essentials to successful dairying, feeding the dairy cow and marketing dairy products were the principal topics for the morning session, the principal speakers being R. H. Gower, Clayton; R. L. Shuford, Catawba county; J. A. Conover and a number of the professors in the A. & M. College.

At the afternoon session for the consideration of live stock, the principal speakers were A. M. Soule, president of the Georgia A. & M. College; A. L. French, Rockingham county; Dr. Tait Butler and O. L. Joyner, of Pitt county. "The Place that Live Stock Should Occupy in the Agricultural Interests of the State and How Can the Feeding of Beef Cattle Be Made Profitable in North Carolina," were especially important topics. J. A. Kiernan, in charge of the eradication of the cattle tick in Virginia and North Carolina reviewed the progress being made in this important work in this State.

Governor Glenn goes to Alamance county Saturday to deliver an address for a big Junior Order, United American Mechanics, meeting at Hawsfield Church. It is for the promotion of the educational interests of the section. He will spend September 7th and 8th in Northampton county, addressing a big meeting of farmers at Severn Saturday afternoon, and at night he will deliver a Bible and flag to the Rich Square public school, in behalf of the Junior Order. Then on Sunday night he delivers an address to the young people of the town in the public school auditorium.

President Venable, of the State University, says the contract will be let very soon now for the new biological building authorized by the board of trustees. The committee a few days ago located the site on the University campus. He says a great need at the University now is another dormitory.

BRYAN WILL NOT RUN.

One good sign of the times is that the Democracy is busy discussing the availability of men for the nomination for the Presidency in the 1908 campaign. It is none too early to be discussing candidates, as 1908 will be here in a few months and then sentiment in the party will have to rapidly centre on some man for the nomination. Who shall he be? According to the Philadelphia Record, it will not be Hon. William J. Bryan, of Nebraska. The Record on Thursday announces that Colonel Bryan will not be a candidate for the Presidency next year. The information, it says, comes direct from Colonel Bryan to a well known Democrat. Colonel Bryan declares that he will not seek the nomination. Though the people may want him, the leaders of his party are opposed to him. He says this is his final decision after careful consideration.

The following is the Record's article in full:

"Friends of William J. Bryan in this city claim to have received letters from him which indicate that he has no thought of being the Democratic nominee for President next year. These letters are declared to intimate very broadly the belief of Mr. Bryan that, without a great change in the attitude of Democratic organization leaders of the country toward him, he would, if nominated for President next year, suffer a repetition of the fate that he met in 1896 and 1900.

"Nevertheless, Mr. Bryan evidently does not under-estimate the influence that he will have in the Democratic National Convention, nor does he appear to believe that anybody strenuously opposed by him for the nomination could win in the convention. But Mr. Bryan's recognition of his own unavailability, at present, for the nomination, is the basis of expectation by friends with whom he has been in private communication, that he will select a candidate who, in his judgment, would make the best possible run if nominated, and will then turn in for him, heart and soul.

"The substance of the Bryan letters referred to is that, in the two campaigns which resulted in his defeat, the rank and file were for him, but the leaders were against him. In his view, the only difference between conditions in those years and the present feeling of the party in relation to his candidacy is that the antagonism of 'the leaders' against him is stronger than ever before, while the rank and file still stand by him.

"In the light of the ample experience which he has had, Mr. Bryan wants to know why he should hope for election next year, if the foremost men of the party would exert themselves even more than they formerly did for the counteraction of whatever the rank and file would want to do for him.

"But the friends to whom he has written argue that no man can be nominated in the coming Democratic convention against the will of Bryan. He can make the nominee win, they say. If he shall turn in heartily for 'somebody like Governor Johnson, of Minnesota,' that candidate, in the forecast of these observers, "will not only be nominated with a grand hurrah, but, in the running upon a platform of States' rights. Constitutional guarantees and tariff reform, could not be defeated even by Roosevelt himself as a candidate against him, and certainly not by Taft or any other candidate backed by the President.'"

The Record's information is important if it is true. However, the well known reliability of that staid and able paper leads us to accept the announcement until it is denied by Colonel Bryan himself. The logic upon which Colonel Bryan's conclusions are alleged to be based makes the story exceedingly plausible. The logic of the situation is very correctly stated and that lends strength to the story.

However, why should Colonel Bryan go into the convention with the idea of saying who shall be the party's nominee or what its platform shall be? The strength of Colonel Bryan in the party is admitted and while he will advise with the party leaders in the National convention, we rather resent the idea that any one man can dictate a platform or pick the candidate.

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER.

For one, The Star has always clung to the idea that the Democracy has plenty of strong Presidential timber—strong enough and able enough, and possessing more or less availability. When the National convention of the party meets next year it is our opinion that there will be a whole slate full of good names from which to select candidates for President and Vice President. The Star has long ago recognized in Judge Gray one of the most available men for the Presidency, and one in every way fitted with the lofty character, eminent ability and correct conception of party principles to make him eligible as the party's leader and the choice of the people of the Republic for their President. In this respect, The Star is in good company, for the Washington Post makes this editorial allusion to Judge Gray:

"There are several Democrats who would make great Presidents. The Hon. George Gray, of Delaware, is one. He has been thoroughly tested, and his qualities have been proved to be lasting and genuine. The services he has performed for his country have been valuable. He is capable of performing invaluable service. If the Democracy should regain its real character and purpose it would in Judge Gray its ideal champion. His nomination would be proof that the party had been restored to reason, and was entitled to be placed in power."

The fact is that Judge Gray will be one of the strongest and most conspicuous men for the National convention's consideration next year. If it is to be a safe and sane convention—and we think it will—he will be a shining probability.

All classes of Americans could have confidence in such a man as Judge Gray. The people know the man, and the financial interest would have no reason to fear anything except that which it would bring on itself. Col. O'Brien, president of the Southern Express Company, arrived in London on Thursday, and an interview which he had with the correspondent of the Washington Post, shows how Judge Gray is regarded. Col. O'Brien said:

"Just now politics and commercial affairs in America are so interdependent that in order to discuss one it is necessary to inclue the other. It is a remarkable condition for any country, and particularly for a republic, when the acts and utterances of one man can so greatly affect the financial and commercial as well as the political interests of the country. The conditions in America are certainly discouraging. The clouds are thick and threatening, and the President's Provincetown speech, instead of bettering matters, has, in my opinion, made them worse, but despite all the storm signs, I am sanguine that fair weather is due for America, and that very soon.

"I may be oversanguine, but somehow I feel that a resumption of the conservative elements of power will take place either before election or immediately following. If the Democrats were wise they could grasp the present opportunity. By nominating a safe and conservative citizen like Judge Gray, of Delaware, they could certainly win the Presidency. The people are ready for a change, a real change, not simply a swap of radicals in the White House. There is, on the other hand, considerable talk of Mr. Roosevelt succeeding himself, but personally I cannot see how he could accept another nomination without stultifying himself and swallowing all his written and spoken utterances on the possibility of his being a candidate."

STATE PROHIBITION.

Editor Morning Star:

Will you kindly allow me, through your columns, to express some thoughts suggested by your editorial of this morning on, "No Forced Prohibition."

I fear your readers will misapprehend the language of the Chattanooga Times, from which you quote, in reference to the position of Governor Glenn, as it says he favors local option for communities rather than prohibition by legislation.

In a conversation with the Governor this week he said to me that he is straight out in favor of State Prohibition, and that he is making speeches all over the State, with a view to bringing it about, by means of the next Legislature. We hope soon to have him speak in the First Baptist church of this city on this very theme—the Legislature's submitting the question of a Constitutional Amendment to a vote of the people, giving to North Carolina state—wide prohibition.

Again, in reference to the "division" in the Anti-Saloon League as to methods, and in reference to the resignation of Mr. Bailey, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and the election of John A. Oates in his stead, let me say that there is practically no "division" in the ranks of the Anti-Saloon League, the sentiment being practically solid for State Prohibition, either by Legislative Statute, or by Constitutional Amendment. It is Mr. Bailey's personal opinion that the larger cities should have the right to vote on the question of the saloon, but seeing that he could not bring the League to his way of thinking, he resigned as leader of the saloon fighters of the State, and the Executive Committee, representing the sentiment of the League, unanimously elected Mr. Oates, after he had plainly stated to them his purpose, if elected, to use all legitimate means to secure State Prohibition through the next Legislature.

In reference to forcing prohibition on the State, let me say that this will not be done. State Organizer Davis will continue his work of organizing county Prohibition Leagues, and creating public sentiment, until the meeting of the State League in the Spring; at which time it will be decided what kind of prohibition the League wants, whether Statutory, or a Constitutional Amendment, and then several other men will be put into the field with him, to see that a League is organized in each county in the State. These County Leagues will ascertain who among the candidates for Governor, and for the General Assembly, are straight out State Prohibitionists, and the influence of the Leagues will be given to the men who will represent them in the halls of the State Capitol. Thus the people of each county, and throughout the State, will have the privilege of saying, through their representative, what they want in the way of liquor legislation. You may be sure that the liquor forces will have their representatives before the primaries, or conventions. There is a "fight to the finish" coming, on this burning issue now before the people of North Carolina, and men might as well be making up their minds how they are going to vote.

Mr. Davis reports great enthusiasm among the temperance forces of the State, and a wonderful turning of the people toward State Prohibition. Of course, we must not make the law, unless public sentiment is back of it; but public sentiment on the saloon question is rapidly made, and with our present plan of operation, and a vigorous campaign of education, and organization, for the next year and a half, I think State Prohibition, if carried in the Legislature, will not have been forced on the people of the State.

FRED D. HALE,
August 29, 1907.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—A Chicago judge has ruled that "ladies without escorts must not loiter in saloons." Chicago is getting particular.—Washington Herald.

—Financially Leslie M. Shaw appears to be prospering, but his boom seems to be without visible means of support.—Washington Post.

—Standard Oil declares about its usual dividend, not the highest to be sure in its record, but still big enough to indicate that the corporation can take care of that fine without pinching its stockholders.—Providence Journal.

—Every distinctive Republican policy had been proved wrong and unwise when Roosevelt devised new issues to take place of the old ones. And now we are to live through the proof that the frying pan is better than the fire.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

—The girl who upset a lamp while curling her hair and so caused the destruction of Old Orchard does not rank with Mrs. Leary's cow, which kicked over the lamp that set fire to Chicago, but she deserves recognition.—New York World.

—Now, brethren, do not hand around the ugly slander that Mr. Bailey is opposed to temperance because he does not think like you upon the question. He is just as sincerely opposed to the liquor traffic as any of us, and he has done a good deal more for the promotion of the temperance cause than most of us. Some folks cannot bear for a body to look at any question except through their spectacles; but such people are usually both narrow and conceited.—Charity and Children, Thomasville.

—Hon. E. F. Noel, of Lexington, Miss., has been selected by that State's Democratic primary as governor of the State after a second primary, which means his election. His friends throughout North Carolina and Duplin county congratulate him upon his victory. Two years ago he was defeated by Gov. Vardaman, but wins out this time with increased popularity and honor. He visited his sister, Mrs. H. F. Peirce, at Warsaw, during the Summer of the amendment campaign of 1900, and spoke at the Duplin county rally at Kenansville, with Gov. C. B. Aycock, upon the beneficent effects of the grandfather clause then in operation in his own State. We congratulate Gov. Noel and the State of Mississippi.—Duplin Journal, Warsaw.

—"Did you say the fellow that Belle Smartleigh married for his money was worth a million?" "No, I didn't say he was worth it; I said he owned that much."—Baltimore American.

—"Dear me, John, this is dreadful with hot weather on us, and no money to go anywhere. Haven't you any country relations you can scare up?" "That's the trouble. I've scared all I've got already."—Baltimore American.

—"What made Brown marry that widow?" "Did you ever drop a penny in a weighing machine and then find the thing won't work?" "Yes." "That's the reason." "What do you mean?" "Couldn't get a weigh."—Denver Post.

—Tom—But perhaps she doesn't love you. Jack—Oh, yes, she does! Tom—How do you know? Jack—When I told her that I had no money to get married on she offered to borrow some from her father.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—"Slowboy has been slaving away at that desk for twenty years or so. Wonder why he's never been promoted." "Why, he's always taken a pride in doing more than he's paid for, and his employers have been afraid they couldn't find a man to fill his place."—Puck.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

ATMOSPHERIC ELECTRICITY.

Experiment Suggested by Franklin and Performed by D'Alibard.

To Benjamin Franklin belongs the merit of having perceived that a direct experiment was needed to prove what so far was only a guess. In an article entitled "Opinions and Conjectures Concerning the Properties and Effects of the Electrical Matter Arising From Experiments and Observations Made at Philadelphia, 1749," the following passage occurs:

"To determine the question whether the clouds that contain lightning are electrified or not I would propose an experiment to be tried where it can be done conveniently. On the top of some high tower or steeple place a kind of sentry box big enough to contain a man and an electrical stand. From the middle of the stand let an iron rod rise and pass, bending out of the door and then upright twenty feet or thirty feet, pointed very sharp at the end. If the electrical stand be kept clean and dry a man standing on it when such clouds are passing low might be electrified and afford sparks, the rod drawing fire to him from a cloud.

"If any danger to the man should be apprehended, though I think there would be none, let him stand on the floor of his box and now and then bring near to the rod the loop of a wire that has one end fastened to the leads, he holding it by a wax handle, so the sparks if the rod be electrified will strike from the rod to the wire and not affect him."

The experiment suggested by Franklin was successfully performed in Marly, France, by D'Alibard, on May 10, 1752; in London by Canton in Spital square on July 20, 1752, and by Wilson in Chelmsford, Essex, on Aug. 12 of the same year. Franklin himself described having used a kite in Philadelphia in a letter dated Oct. 19 without giving the date of his observations. Rosenberger ("Geschichte der Physik," volume 2, page 316) mentioned that it was done in June.

Franklin's disbelief in the dangerous character of the experiment must have received a severe shock when he heard of the death of G. W. Richman, who, in the year 1753, was killed by an electric discharge drawn from the clouds by means of a kite.

PRAYERS BEFORE BATTLE.

Curious Invocations by Famous Historical Personages.

One of the earliest records in history of a prayer before battle is that of Childeric, king of Gaul, a pagan, who before going into battle at Zuelpich, some 400 years after Christ, prayed to the God of the Christians to help him to victory. His foe was Attila, king of the Huns, and Childeric vowed if God would give him the victory he would embrace the Christian faith.

The prayer of a Hungarian officer before one of the battles fought for the independence of Hungary in 1849 was as follows: "I will not ask thee, Lord, to help us, and I know thou wilt not help the Austrians, but if thou wilt sit on yonder hill thou shalt not be ashamed of thy children." This was the prayer of the "Fighting Bishop" Leslie before one of the battles fought in Ireland: "O God, for our unworthiness we are not fit to claim thy help, but if we are bad our enemies are worse, and if thou seest not meet to help us we pray thee help them not, but stand thou neuter on this day and leave it to the arm of the flesh."

The one offered before the battle of Edgehill by Sir Jacob Astley was, "Thou knowest, O Lord, that I shall be very busy this day, and if I forget thee forget thou not me," and then the command followed, "March on, boys!" As King Edward advanced with his columns to Bannockburn he remarked to his aids, seeing the Scotch on their knees: "See, they kneel. The rebels are asking pardon." D'Umphraville was heard to remark: "Yes, but it is to the King of kings. These men conquer or die on this field."

Oliver Cromwell had public prayers before going to battle on several occasions, as, for instance, previous to the battle of Dunbar. It is a curious fact that the English prayer book contains prayers, or at least one prayer, to be said before going into action at sea, while nothing is provided for use before engagements on land.

An Ishmaelite of the Plains.

The dead thing, wherever it lies, still remains the coyote's choicest feast. A creature without a friend, an Ishmaelite whom men and animals have combined in despising, the ideal thief and vagabond of the animal world, this gray, gaunt figurehead of the western world still survives, as much the owner of his empire as he was in the days when his ancestors looked with cock eared astonishment and staccato exclamations upon the expedition of Lewis and Clark feeling its way slowly across that transmissouri wilderness whose future was then undreamed.—James W. Steele in Outing Magazine.

Snuff Taking in London.

Snuff taking is a common habit among certain classes of the London poor. It shows its effects in rambling speech, pallid aspect and dejected demeanor, resembling the symptoms of the morphia taker. The practice is especially common among women, and an observer says that women in the prisoner's dock in the police court will have their hair decorated with curl papers which contain each the pinch of snuff needed for consolation.

Its Advantage.

Knicker—Why do you prefer serial stories?

Flatter—Because it's the only thing on the installment plan they can't take away.

A Ring Island.

Many coral reef islands in the Pacific are in the form of more or less perfect rings, or ovals, inclosing lagoons. The ring island of Ninafou, halfway between Fiji and Samoa, is not a coral reef, but a volcanic ring inclosing a crater containing a lake two miles in diameter. Toward the sea the ring is bordered with walls of black lava, and on the inner side these break down in cliffs 200 to 300 feet in height. An eruption in 1886 formed a peninsula on the eastern side of the lake. While the ocean outside is trembling and thundering under a heavy wind the lake remains smooth or is simply wrinkled with ripples.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scienists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being strongly urged; careless then being fatal to longievity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine, that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50 cents.

To Drive Out Malaria And Build Up The System.

Children's Escape From Poison.

Willie Polley, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Polley, and Allison and Walter Holland, the little sons of Mrs. Maggie H. Holland, who live in the same neighborhood, had a narrow escape from poisoning a day or two ago as the result of eating rat poison that they found in one of the rooms of Mr. Polley's residence where it had been left several days ago while the family was away from home. The children live on Fifth, between Church and Castle streets, and are between three and six years of age. They found particles of the poison about the house and as it was agreeable to the taste, they ate considerable of it, being in a critical condition for several hours. Mrs. Polley gave them an emitic and later sent for Dr. R. H. Bellamy, who brought them around all right though their escape was narrow.

—J. A. Rowe, the owner, was yesterday granted a permit to build a freight shed for the steamer Duplin, on Water between Princess and Chestnut streets. It will be two-stories in height and will cost $800.

—By deed filed for record yesterday, of date Jan. 1st, 1889, the late H. H. Munson and wife transferred to Mrs. Ellie T. Hancock, for $1,415, property on west side of Fourth, 112 feet north of Walnut street, 48x49 feet in size.

—The morning service of the First Presbyterian church, corner Third and Orange streets, tomorrow, Sunday, will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Hill, of Hot Springs, Va. There will be no evening service. Usual prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

—There was but one defendant in the police court yesterday. John Hall, a small colored boy, charged with fighting yesterday morning at Second and Market streets, was ordered whipped by his mother. This was done to the "queen's taste" in the City Hall yard. The case of J. T. English, charged with cruelty to animals, was continued until September 3d.

—Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "The A. C. L. Railroad has been indicted in three more cases, charged with blocking the crossing of the city, two of them for blocking the Rowan street crossing and one for blocking the Blount street crossing. This road was only recently fined for blocking the Rowan street crossing."

—Southport Herald: "Services were held in Franklin Square last Sunday by a number of the Salvation Army of Wilmington in the afternoon. Those who came from Wilmington were Adjutant and Mrs. Yates and Miss Abbey Yates and Capt. Daniel R. Bender. Quite a large gathering attended the services. Services will be held here from time to time."

—By deeds filed for record yesterday J. F. Baggett and wife transferred to Mrs. J. D. H. Klander, for $1,300, property on east side of Fifth, 66 feet north of Queen street, 33x140 feet in size, and Fannie J. Sadgwar transferred to her niece, Ethel David Adeleine Berta Price, for natural love and affection, property at northeast corner of Fifth and Brunswick streets, 66x124 feet in size.

NO SALARY REDUCTION

Mr. Kenly Denies That There is Truth In Winston Statement.

Third Vice President J. R. Kenly, of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, in an interview with a representative of the Star yesterday denied a report printed in the Winston, (N. C.) Journal to the effect that salaries on the Coast Line had been cut ten per cent. The statement was contained in the following editorial from the Journal:

"Big corporations will find means fair or foul to make their fortunes. The railroads couldn't get ahead of the Governor so they are already taking it out on their employes. The Atlantic Coast Line has made a reduction of 10 per cent. on the salaries of its employes. Wouldn't it not be nobler for this corporation to let the defeat mean a little loss to it as a whole than to oppress the laborer by decrasing his already meagre wages?"

When asked in regard to the statement Mr. Kenly said:

"There is absolutely no truth in the statement to the effect that the Atlantic Coast Line has made a reduction of 10 per cent. in the salaries of its employes, and I shall be very glad if you will give this denial as much publicity as you can."

Mr. and Mrs. Boone Bereaved.

Friends tenderly sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Boone, No. 1512 Market street, in the death of their infant son, Morris, which occurred yesterday morning. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the family residence, the service being conducted by Rev. Fred D. Hale. The interment will be in Bellevue Cemetery.

DID NOT FIRE A SHOT

Why Thousands of Indians Melted Away Before Forty Men.

A STORY OF PIONEER DAYS.

Captain McCabe Knew the Sioux Better Than They Knew Themselves, and the Indians Knew the Captain's Men Were Dead Shots and Scalp Takers.

In the pioneer days to reach Montana from Cheyenne, in Wyoming, required a roundabout journey that involved a double crossing of the Rocky mountains, with a change of base at Salt Lake City. The United States government brought about a better condition of travel by constructing a trail through the Gallatin valley along the course of the Gunpowder river, reaching around the base of the mountains in a curvilinear form, which avoided the heights of the Rockies. To protect this route from marauding Indians three forts were built—Reno, Phil Kearny and C. F. Smith.

In 1866 the murderous Sioux from the Yellowstone valley pursued a sanguinary course up through the Gallatin valley and into Montana. It was marked by rapine and plunder. They besieged Fort Reno and killed many of its garrison. They environed Fort Phil Kearny and wiped from the face of the earth every human being whose walls it failed to protect. Then they surrounded Fort C. F. Smith, where 200 soldiers found themselves surrounded by more than a thousand death seeking Indians. Escape seemed impossible. A courier got word of this condition of affairs to General Hancock, who was then stationed at St. Paul, and he sent a messenger to the governor of Montana at Bozeman.

The chief executive of the territory of Montana at that time was Green Clay Smith. He had been a member of congress from Kentucky, but President Lincoln made him territorial governor of Montana. He was seated on the porch of his residence in Bozeman when Hancock's message was handed to him. To a visitor he said:

"What in the name of heaven can I do? Fort C. F. Smith is 250 miles away. The country between here and there is filled with Sioux Indians. Our militia force consists of exactly 427 men. Not a man of them could reach Fort C. F. Smith alive. I am absolutely powerless. However, I will send for Colonel Howie."

At that time Colonel Neil Howie was United States marshal for the territory of Montana.

It was to this man that Governor Smith addressed himself, handing him General Hancock's dispatch and saying: "Colonel, we can't do anything for those poor devils in Fort C. F. Smith. Am I not right?"

"No," said Colonel Howie quietly, and with the gentle voice of a woman.

"There is no trouble about that, governor. We can arrange that matter and still leave the Montana frontier protected. I will need some picked men and a good leader for them. I think Captain McCabe is best fitted for this undertaking. I will find him."

McCabe was another gentle voiced man, with blue eyes. He didn't make much noise. He acted. He said to the governor: "Oh, yes; it is easy enough. But I'll need forty of the best men I can select. You can keep the rest of your volunteer force here."

Governor Smith looked at him in amazement. So did the visitor from the fort. They both thought he was either insane or a braggart. Governor Smith said to him, "How in the name of heaven do you expect to raise the siege of Fort C. F. Smith with forty men when you know that it is surrounded by more than 1,000 bloodthirsty Indians and that the country between here and there is covered with thousands more of murderous Sioux?"

Said McCabe quietly: "Why, governor, it is easy enough. The Indians know us and know that we know them better than they know themselves. You folks from the east have an idea that what you call Indian atrocities are simply unmeaning exhibitions of brutality; that scalping, for instance, is simply a form of torture. In that you are mistaken. The Indian believes that no man can go to the happy hunting ground—heaven we call it—who has been deprived of his hair. Their motive in scalping a victim is to carry out fiendish hatred to its utmost by preventing him from having a happy hereafter. Therefore to deprive an Indian of his scalp is to rob him of his hope of a happy hereafter. My men never kill an Indian without scalping him, and the Indians know that. The forty men I will select for this expedition are unerring in their aim with the rifle. They can shoot sixteen shots in sixteen seconds, and every ball means a dead Indian, and every dead Indian means a scalp, and every scalp means a warrior deprived eternally of a chance of ever reaching the happy hunting ground. My forty men will walk from here to Fort C. F. Smith without firing a shot."

"Incredible," said Governor Smith.

"True," said Captain McCabe.

What was the result?

Forty men walked the 250 miles from Bozeman to Fort C. F. Smith. Indians watched them on every side. By days their progress was signaled by circling columns of smoke and by night by fire from mountain tops. But not a shot was fired. When they got within sight of Fort C. F. Smith the thousand whooping Sioux who held the garrison in siege fled, and the forty frontiersmen from Bozeman marched in and escorted the 200 soldiers back to the territorial capital without the loss of a life. Not a shot had been fired. Not a scalp had been lifted.

FUTURITY AT SHEEPSHEAD

Blue Ribbon Event of American Turf Scheduled Today.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, August 30.—For the 20th running of the classic futurity at Sheepshead Bay tomorrow but eight horses are named to face the starter—the smallest field in the history of the race, the recognized blue ribbon event of the American turf. It cannot be said, however, that these two year olds are not of the calibre to make the race an interesting one from the barrier to the wire of the six furlongs course.

Conspicuous is the entry of James R. Keene's Colin, the undefeated son of Commando-Pastorella and Restigouche, another son of Commando, but it is with the former that Mr. Keene expects to win the race, although he would not be surprised to see his 'second" colors close behind the white with the blue poka dots of Colin when the end of the journey is reached. Frank Farrel's Jim Kiffney which will carry 130 pounds, conceding five pounds to Colin, is the second choice of the public.

Beaucoupa from the stable of R. T. Wilson, Jr., which once ran Colin to a head, has been especially pointed for the race and with 119 pounds on his back is expected to give a good account of himself. August Belmont will start Fair Play, a colt of great speed, and Stamina and one that easily can handle his allotment of weight.

The fast but erractic Chapultepec, owned by Frank Burlew in his preparatory workouts, has shown remarkable speed, according to reports, as also has Bar None, Harry Payne Whitney's entry. Both these colts have the minimum weight of the entrances, 117 pounds. James E. Madden places his hope in Meelick.

BRADSTREET'S ON BUSINESS

Fall Jobbing Trade Has Improved. Conditions Favorable.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 30.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Crop and trade developments display irregularity, rendering generalization difficult. Fall jobbing trade has improved among large centres and from the Northwest comes the report that goods ordered held back are now being urged for quick delivery.

Drygoods and wearing apparel, such as clothing, shoes and millinery, show chief activity as befitting the season. Flour milling shows increased activity and improved export demand for both flour and wheat at advanced prices and is instrumental in causing a pessimistic feeling that short yields will be offset by higher values.

Collections are still a subject of complaint as for some time past, special emphasis being placed on New York collections, where discounts are less numerous than formerly. Foundry pig iron is weaker at all markets, and in a few centres re-sale iron is being constantly offered.

Demand for steel rails is disappointing but it is stated that reservations for next year pending an adjustment of specifications are heavy and a large foreign order is also looked for.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending August 29 were 167 against 153 last week, 138 in 1906, 161 in 1905, 189 in 1904 and 162 in 1903.

STRIKE OF TELEGRAPHERS.

Prophecy That It Will Come to End Next Week.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 30.—The strike of the telegraph operators will come to an end by next week, according to prophecies by both the strike leaders and the company managers. The opposing leaders are, by no means, agreed as to what will bring about the settlement. On that point they appear to be as widely apart as at any time since the strike began.

D. L. Russell, of the Telegraphers' Union, in announcing his belief that the trouble is near an end, said next Wednesday will see a complete capitulation of the companies with the granting of all the demands made by the strikers.

Superintendent Brooks, of the Western Union, said he believed that the pockets of the strikers will lead to a solution of the trouble. Some of the men already are returning to their old places, he said, and he looks for a general break in the ranks of the strikers by the middle of the coming week.

She tied a rope to the overhead steam pipe in the bathroom, put the noose about her neck and jumped from the bath tub. Ill health is given as the cause for so rash an act. They are French and came here from St. Louis and originally from Paris, France. Her father had done designing work at the recent exposition.

FIRE IN JERSEY CITY.

Over Quarter of a Million Damage in Blaze Last Night.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Sparks of the fire carried a mile and set on fire the plant of the Barber Asphalt Company, on Henderson street. The plant was entirely destroyed entailing a loss of $150,000.

Maryland Militiamen May Have Caused Death of Comrade.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 30.—Colonel Henry M. Warfield, commander of the Fifth Regiment Maryland National Guard, has ordered an investigation of the treatment received by J. D. Arcy Didier, 21 years old, a member of Company A, while at camp at the Jamestown Exposition three weeks ago. Young Didier, who was a son of Mr. Eugene L. Didier, the author and magazine writer of this city, died last Friday, and his father and friends believe that his death was due to his being tossed in a blanket and otherwise severely handled while at Jamestown by fellow members of his company.

Didier was in delicate health when he went to camp. He was the grandson of hte late General Lucieus Bellinger Northrop, Commissary General of the Confederate Army.

It is stated that the responses amount to unqualified acceptance of the proposal.

BLOOD SUBSTITUTE.

Why Saline Solution Is Sometimes Injected Into the Veins.

Occasionally in cases of serious wounds where there has been great loss of blood the published reports state that "saline solution" was injected into the veins to supply the deficiency. The average reader, however, has a very vague if any idea how a solution of salt takes the place of blood.

Not to go into a complete analysis of the blood, it is sufficient to note that of 1,000 parts, 780.15 is composed of water, albumen 65 parts, sodium and potassium 8.371, coloring matter (supplied by the red blood corpuscles) 133, leaving only some 12 parts to be composed of fibrin, fat, calcium and magnesium, etc. Where there is serious loss of blood a state of collapse sets in because, the normal weight of blood being reduced, the heart's action is diminished, there being less resistance for that organ to overcome.

To counteract the result of shock and collapse it is necessary to stimulate the heart by restoring the normal weight; in other words, to get it to work by giving it something to work on. As the analysis shows, of 1,000 parts of blood nearly 800 are composed of water and sodium, and therefore a plain saline solution makes a good substitute. The heart does not know the difference, and it goes to pumping away as usual as soon as this imitation blood gets in the veins. The saline solution serves to tide the patient over the danger point. As the food is converted into chyle, new blood is formed, the red corpuscles are supplied rapidly from the normal tissues, and the saline solution is thrown off through the secretions in the usual way.

Formerly transfusion of blood was the means employed, but this always objectionable method has been supplanted. The greatest objection to the transfusion of blood from one person to another was that to supply the necessary amount to restore the wounded patient it was inevitable that the volunteer should be almost as badly drained, so that the physician would have two patients on his hands where he had one. Besides, there was always the risk of transfusing disease to the patient with the other's blood. Dogs and sheep have been sacrificed to surgery for this purpose, but most people prefer to use blood of their own manufacture to any imported from beasts or their fellow creatures.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The first of the modern bank notes were made in China about the year 1000 A. D.

Blood in its natural state contains a surprising amount of pure air, amounting to nearly seven-eighths of its entire bulk.

The wasp's nest is constructed of a first class article of papier mache, made from the pulp of wood, with an animal glue specially prepared by the wasps for the purpose.

The honey of the snapdragon cannot be extracted by the common bee, which has not weight enough to pull down the lower jaw of this curious flower. Only the bumblebee has access to the interior.

The first trapdoor was made by a species of African spider which has its nest in the ground and closes the entrance by means of a trapdoor opening outwardly and covered with bits of earth and grass in order to escape observation.

Women's Love of Ugly Men.

The illustrious men in history who were distinguished as much for the fascination which they exercised over the fair sex as for their talents and ability were, as a rule, plain and insignificant in appearance. Julius Caesar was a very ill favored man, and yet when a mere strippling, before his fame in Rome, girls of his own age sighed for him and mature women longed for his love. Among the men of later times who were renowned in like manner were Sir Philip Sidney, plain almost to ugliness; Paul Searron, the comic poet, a cripple; Voltaire, unmistakably ugly, and Rousseau, whose manners were awkward as his face was plain, while John Wilkes, who had the power to subjugate any woman who spoke to him for even five minutes, was admitted by his own showing to be the ugliest man in England in his time.

The Toe Nails.

Owing to the friction and pressure to which toe nails are exposed in all persons who wear boots or shoes there is a great tendency to thickening on the underpart of the free growth, the portion of the nail that extends beyond the toe point. This thickened part sometimes gets pressed against the flesh, and then very painful corns result. The preventive treatment is to keep the nails cut short and to remove the rather soft thickened parts with a blunt pocket knife or scissors blade.

Pleasant.

"Yes," answered the little fellow; "I'll be sorry for you."

The Difference.

Harry—Do you know the difference between capital and labor? Jack—No. Harry—Well, if I loaned you 25 cents, that would be capital, and if I tried to get it back, that would be labor.

Belle of Virginia
BLENDED RYE

When a man goes for a drink of Belle of Virginia Whiskey he hurries because he knows he will have a fine drink, and when he comes away he smiles and smacks his lips because he has had it. Belle of Virginia is a blended whiskey—a rye whiskey carefully and scientifically blended from fine, pure, old whiskies. It's a really good honest article and to those who like a blended whiskey it will give satisfaction clear down to the ground.

Sold at the places where gentlemen go to get a drink.

GOING AND COMING

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Warsaw Duplin Journal: Sales at the Warsaw Tobacco Wareheous have been large during the past week, and on account of the better grades soaring and the growers are wearing broad and happy smiles.

—Burlington, August 28: Much excitement prevails in the Altamahaw neighborhood eight miles north of Burlington, because of the death of the 11-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, the cause being hydrophobia.

—Mt. Airy, August 29: Tuesday morning on R. F. D. No. 2, four miles east of this city. Hence Shinalt, a middle aged white man, met his death by suffocation in a well. He was blasting out a deep well with dynamite and had just fired a charge. After waiting a short time he went down into the well again and was suffocated by the gas from the explosion. He leaves a wife and several children.

—Clarkton Express: The total increase in property values in Bladen county over last year is $542,477. This increase is mostly in real estate, which is on account of the new assessment, The values are as follows: Real property, $1,671,303, last year $1,255,006; railroads and corporations, $809,070, last year, $769,514; personal property, $1,175,876 last year, $1,089,255. The total increase in taxes this year will be $3,628.07.

—Raleigh News and Observer: Something remarkable in watermelon growing is to be seen in the store of Job P. Wyatt & Brother, on East Martin street. There is on exhibition a single vine that has on it eight watermelons, the aggregate weight of which is 237 pounds. This remarkable vine is from the farm of Mr. Van B. Moore, three miles south of the city, and is said to be but a fair example of what he is doing in watermelon growing.

—Salisbury, August 29: The mammoth dam at the Whitney power plant at the narrows of the Yadkin river has been completed. It is 917 feet long and 46 feet high, being constructed of finished granite of a superior quality. The dam, which is considered one of the largest in the South, furnishes 45,000 horse power, which will be completed this year. The Whitney Company will furnish electric power to cities and towns within a radius of eight miles.

—Newton Enterprise: Last Thursday at Providence cotton mill near Maiden, the home of Mr. Lon. Bumgardner was struck by lightning about 1 o'clock, and Mrs. Bumgarner, who was standing by her baby's cradle was killed, also a little son of Mr. Jack Summitt, who had gone into the house to get out of the storm. The boy was standing near the door and was thrown out into the yard and his neck broken. There were three other children in the house, but none other was seriously hurt. The house received the full force of the lightning and was almost torn from its foundation. Mr. Bumgarner, the husband, is left with three small children and in a pitiable condition.

—Durham, August 29: H. T. Allen, a white man was arrested in Durham yesterday afternoon by R. W. Ward, office deputy marshal on a capias that was issued by the grand jury after an investigation last May indicting him on the charge of selling "green goods." The capias was issued sometime past but was withdrawn owing to the fact that Allen was serving time on the county roads for drunkenness. Yesterday he was released and was immediately re-arrested on the complaint of the federal authorities. He emphatically denied any charge of this kind and protested that he did not know the nature of the case. It is understood that Allen has been using the mails for fraudulent purposes, doing considerable advertising in yellow journals and falling unreasonably short in his claims. He was carried before United States Commissioner Moye and placed under a $200 bond. In default of same he was placed in jail in this county.

—Warsaw Duplin Journal: Our enterprising townsman and progressive business man, Mr. W. H. Dawson, informs us that he has just closed a deal for one-half million feet of long leaf pine timber, convenient to the railroad, and that he will move his saw mill plant to this location within the next 30 days. Mr. Dawson has recently installed a new up-to-date saw mill with every compliance for the rapid manufacture of lumber, with a capacity of 15,000 feet per day, giving employment to some 25 or 30 hands. Mr. Dawson is a native of the State of Ohio, being born and reared near Jackson, Jackson county. He with his excellent family, moved to Warsaw in the year 1902 and he has been successfully engaged in the lumber business ever since that time. Since coming to Warsaw Mr. Dawson has become thoroughly identified with the town and all its interests. Not even the oldest and most loyal resident feels more interested in the future welfare of the town or would do more for the progress of its enterprises than Mr. Dawson.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 30.—The feature in the cotton market today was the heavy September notice, but fluctuations were comparatively narrow, and the market closed steady at a net decline of 2 to 5 points. Sales were estimated at 250,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 4 points with near months showing the greatest loss owing to the heavy notices which were estimated at about 75,000 bales. There was a good demand from spot people, and immediately following the call, however, and as soon as it became evident that the notices were being stopped, the active months sold up to a net advance of 1 to 4 points on covering by shorts and bull support, encouraged by the steady Liverpool cables and continued dry weather in the Western belt. There was a heavy realizing movement later, particularly as some of the more extreme bulls were disappointed with a private condition report showing an average deterioration for the month on only 1.6 per cent., and during the afternoon prices razed off several points.

The close was 3 to 4 points up from the lowest.

The market will remain closed from today until next Tuesday and realizing for over the holidays was probably a factor after the early advance.

Receipts at the ports today, 4,697 bales, against 2,506 last week, and 17,764 last year. For the week, 20,000 bales, against 11,574 last week and 74,542 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 298 bales, against 3,501 last year, and at Houston, 2,394 bales, against 8,553 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands, 13.55; middling Gulf, 13.80. Sales, 2,014 bales.

Around all day with an aching back;
Can't rest at night;
Enough to make any one "give out."
Doan's Kidney Pills will give renewed life.
They will cure the backache;
Cure every kidney ill.
Here is Wilmington proof that this is so:

E. Poezolt, merchant tailor of Eight South Front street, residing at 315 North Sixth street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and in her case they proved to be an effective remedy. She suffered with her ankles and could scarcely get down stairs in the morning. We thought it was rheumatism, and her ankles would be all pulled up every morning, so she could hardly hobble around. Since obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at R. R. Bellamy's drug store and taking them she seems like another person. She is better in the morning, the swelling left her ankles and from the great relief she obtained we are only too glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

MR. MANSFIELD GONE FROM EARTH

Eminent Actor Died at 6 A. M. Yesterday Near New London, Conn.

MAN OF WONDERFUL GENIUS

High Tribute to His Professional Achievements by Former Manager—Thousands Will Remember His Beau Brummel.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New London, Conn., Aug. 30.—Richard Mansfield, the actor, died at 6 o'clock this morning at his Summer residence, Seven Oaks.

New York, Aug. 30.—Richard Mansfield was born on the island of Heligoland on May 24, 1857. His mother was Mme. Mansfield Rudersdorf, a famous prima donna, and it was from her that Mansfield inherited his love for the arts. He studied at several schools on the continent and then went to England to study art. He made a precarious living painting pictures and many times his only meal in those early days in London was a hot potato bought from a street peddler. The struggle for a livelihood proved discouraging to Mansfield, and after a trip to America he turned his talents toward the stage. As a singer and comedian he joined a traveling company at a salary of $15 a week. Several years were spent playing small parts in tours of the Provinces and then Mansfield came to this country, where his first appearance was made at the Standard theatre. Mansfield's genius had so far failed to make itself manifest to his associates, but in 1883 his opportunity came when A. M. Palmer put on the "Parisian Romance." J. H. Stoddart at the last minute declined to play the part. Mansfield, who had been cast for a small part in the play, begged permission to play the part of the palsied, dissolute old French nobleman. Mansfield lifted what at first seemed but a small, eccentric part to one of all absorbing interest, and from that day Mansfield became a leading figure on the American stage. Several years' play in several different plays which he carried to a degree of success by his powerful personality, he became a star in 1887, when he appeared in "Prince Karl." Richard Mansfield married Beatrice Cameron in 1892. She had been for several years his leading lady, but shortly after her marriage she retired permanently from the stage.

Mansfield's young son has never been permitted to see his father act. The intense nervous strain under which Richard Mansfield worked caused a complete breakdown last Spring while he was playing an engagement in Scranton, Pa., though he had been in poor health for some time.

High Tribute to Mansfield.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—E. E. Price, resident manager of the new Edwin Forest Theatre, who was Richard Mansfield's first acting manager, in speaking of Mr. Mansfield, said:

"From the hour we set out from the Madison Square Theatre in Prince Karl, twenty-one years ago, Mr. Mansfield was dominated by overwhelming ambition and resistless purpose. He climbed rapidly by successive steps. His own little comedy, 'Monsieur,' his dual creation in 'Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde,' and his production of 'Richard III,' at the London Globe, following our tenancy of Irving's Lyceum with 'Beau Brummel,' gave him great impetus. He met failures firmly and the non-success of 'Nero,' 'Ten Thousand A Year,' 'Don Juan,' and 'King of Peru' only nerved him to later achivements which made him America's representative actor.

"Mansfield was a nervous, excitable man, of rapidly alternating moods, given to fits of morbidity and suspicion. His early death was a foregone conclusion. A splendid athlete, he did not conserve his vital forces. He was a disciplinarian to the point of being a martinet, but his aim was always artistic. Unfortunately he was given to regard his fellows from a wrong angle and he was subject to the delusion that mankind was arrayed against him. Excessively nervous, given to the exaggeration of small annoyances, much of this due to heredity, his courage was superb and his sense of justice acute.

"There was, perhaps, no other man in America who could take a mixed company of men, representative in the arts and public life, and entertain them at the table with such infinite courtesy, grace and tact. Mansfield was surely no sycophant, but he was attracted to men of high mentality as they were drawn to him. His friends were of the best, such men as William Winter, Colonel E. A. Ruck, General Horace Porter and Elihu Root, and he held them.

"His domestic life, which I saw develop from his courtship, was blameless and serene. Mansfield was poet, painter, playwright and player, and excelled in every line of endeavor."

FIFTEEN KILLED FIFTY INJURED

Result of Terrible Collision on Electric Railway Near Charleston, Ill.

CRASH WAS HEAD-ONE

Passenger and Express Cars Approached Each Other at Terrible Speed, Few Had Chance to Jump For Their Lives.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Mattoon, Ills., August 30.—Fifteen persons were killed and about fifty injured today in a headon collision between an interuban express train, consisting of a motor car and a trailer and a traction car on the Mattoon and Charleston Electric Line at a sharp curve one mile west of Charleston Illinois. A confusion of orders received over the telephone is said to have been the cause of the accident. The cars approached each other at high speed and the impact was so terrific that the motor car and teh trailer were telescoped by the traction car. Few passengers had time to escape by jumping. Most of the passengers were going to the Coles county fair at Charleston.

Mattoon sent special cars to the wreck and the dead and injured were brought to the morgue and the hospital. Several of the injured may die.

The dead: Neil Fugate, Gays, Ills.; Thomas Weakley, Mattoon, Ills.; William Nelson, North Okawa, Ills.; Charles Nelson, young son of William Howard Cole, Cooks Mills, Ills., boy; Harold Cole, boy, brother of Howard; Zack Vandeventer, Mattoon; Edward Reynolds, Paradise, Ills.; Albert Smith, Mattoon; W. A. Price, Mattoon; W. A. Price, Mattoon; Douglas Logan, Humboldt, Ills.; Edna Walbalm, Cooks Mills; three unidentified bodies.

Doctors and others hurried from Charleston to the disaster, dragged dead and injured from the broken mass of timbers and seats and gave first aid to the maimed. The dead were laid alongside the track. The victims could not be taken to Charleston because the track was blocked in that direction and the relief car from Mattoon was awaited.

The line on which the disaster happened is 12 miles long running between Mattoon and Charleston, Ills., and has only telephone for means of communication.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Resumption of Cases Against Standard Oil Co. Disturbing Element.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, August 30.—With a three days holiday interval in the market pending, operators were inclined to reduce their outstanding commitments, or in the case of smaller class of traders, to retire them altogether. The market proved unreasponsive to any influences that would have helped the bears to reduce prices. Call money was moderately affected by the preparations for the monthly settlements and by the fact that loans made at the Stock Exchange today carry over to next Tuesday by reason of the holiday. The slightly higher rates for loans of this class that were charged received slight attention, however. The estimates of the currency movement for the week, indicated an unexpectedly large balance of receipts from the interior, sufficient, in fact, to materially modify the indicated loss in bank cash from the subtreasury operations and the shipments to Canada which have taken $4,378,000.

An early restraining influence on the advance was an argument advanced by the bears that the resumption next Tuesday of the hearings in the suit of the Government against the Standard Oil Company would re-awaken the harmful effects of that subject in the stock market. The reports late in the day that copper producers and large consumers had come together on a basis for important sales of the metal which might break the deadlock in that trade had a tonic effect on the market and completed the unwillingness of the bears to leave open short contracts. The day's extreme advances was curtailed somewhat by profit taking and the closing tone was rather easy.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,052,000. United States 2's registered have declined 1-8 and the 3's, 3-8 per cent on call during the week. Total sales of stocks today were 416,200 shares.

VIRGINIA'S TWO CENT RATE

Corporation Commission Orders Its Publication and Enforcement Oct. 1.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Richmond, Va., August 30.—The Corporation Commission today ordered publication of the two recent rate laws, placing the law in effect October 1st, on all railroads in Virginia, except the Southern, Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Louisville and Nashville, Chesapeake-Western, Atlantic Coast Line, and the Virginia and Kentucky Railway, which companies are protected by the pending injunction of the United States Circuit Court. This puts the two cent rate in effect on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, the Washington Southern, the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk, the Virginia-Southwestern and the Seaboard Air Line. It also puts into effect graded rates specified for twenty-two smaller lines named in the Commission's order of April 27, 1907. The roads protected by the injunction will put the rate in effect voluntarily October 1st pending the decision of the Federal courts.

BRIDGE CALAMITY MOST APPALLING

Catastrophe Near Quebeck More Disastrous Than Was At First Supposed,

DEATH LIST 80 OR MORE

Only Sixteen Bodies Recovered—Others are Wedged in. Mesh. Work.. of Bridge at Bottom of St. Lawrence River.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Quebec, Aug. 30.—Although twenty hours have elapsed since the Quebec bridge crashed into the St. Lawrence three score of dead bridge workers are still held in the mesh work of the debris at the bottom of the river. A roll call this afternoon confirmed the early estimates of the loss of life. Seventy-nine men failed to answer to their names and were not among the injured at the hospital. Fifteen bodies lie at the morgue awaiting the result of the coroner's inquest. Of the total of 79 dead or missing, 16 were skilled American mechanics brought here by the Phoenix Bridge Company of Phoenixville, Pa., to work on the structural steel parts of the bridge. Some of the bodies of the unfortunate men can be seen below the surface of the water tightly wedged in an inextricable network of steel, where it is utterly impossible to reach them. Although tugs, towboats and rafts were used throughout the day to patrol the water over the wrecked bridge, the result of all their work was the recovery of only one body at low tide this evening. This victim was almost cut in two and the body was taken out in two parts.

Several engineers visited the scene today. It was evident, so these experts said, that there had been a miscalculation of the tensile strength in some spot; that the weak spot had given way under the strain of hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, and that this had at once upset the balanced proportions of the structure and caused the collapse.

SOCIAL ROW IS OVER

Jamestown Exposition Has New Master of Ceremonies.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., August 30.—The resignation of Commissioner General Kohlsaat, as social functionary and the appointment of Barton Grundy, of Richmond, to the position of master of ceremonies, at the Jamestown Exposition, is the amicable settlement of the social war in the ter-centennial family. The settlement was effected today at the meeting of the board of directors. Director General Barr appointed Mr. Grundy to the position vacated by Mr. Kohlsaat. It is understood that the new appointee is satisfactory to President Tucker and that the social features of his duties will be promptly yielded by him.

A committee from the directors gave out a further statement in reference to the controversy to the effect that Director General Barr, in naming Mr. Kohlsaat to the position of master of ceremonies, to conduct entertainments, did not intend to relieve President Tucker of any of his rights, but merely desired to lighten the duties falling on his shoulders.

Pure Whisky Has Medicinal Value

Science establishes the fact, that whiskey is a valuable medicine and when used in moderation its effect on the human system is wholesome and beneficial. The discovery of medicinal properties in whiskey is not new, they were recognized and used to advantage by the scientists of the East long before the course of civilization turned westward.

The Southern Distilling Company, was established on the idea that there was ample room for a large whiskey house that would sell pure whiskies for medicinal use and that is the trade they have today.

We have many proofs which we can offer which sustain our claims which we will gladly furnish upon request.

Phone 248 for Quick Delivery.
